udits in Sonora State Give Authorities No End of Trouble.

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—An interesting Ohio sidelight in the Mexican disturbance is shown in a letter received by Columbus friends from Charles T. Anderson, editor and proprietor of the Mexican Mining Journal, and former Ohioan. Anderson is a native of Cambridge, Ohio. Since the Mexican upheaval he has been in command of a company of Americans who organized to guard the American embassy in Mexico City and to protect the lives of Americans in the city. Recently they were ordered to nearby burning buildings and engaged in carrying out persons overcome by smoke he saw into William Ford of Cambridge, whom he had not seen years, and who was engaged in the same work.

Mexico City, Feb. 28.—An important battle between the rebel forces of Aguascalientes, Alberto D. and government troops of General Hidalgo, is expected today. The state capital, Aguascalientes, is surrounded by rebel troops who last night in a siege.

Governor Fuentes D is entrenched in government palace in the center of the city, the building being held by a force of state troops inferior in numbers and armament to the army commanded by General Hidalgo. A repetition of the battle of the street fighting bombardment which occurred in the city, appears inevitable. The isolation of Mexico City from the United States by rail was completed today. Train service south of Aguascalientes on the Mexican Central line is at a halt, owing to occupation of that city by rebels. A similar condition at Saltillo prevents railroad operations to the north over the National. The roads to Tampico also interrupted, making a detour by that port from the United States to this city impossible. Amos Martinez, who for several years conducted semi-official negotiations for peace between Madero and Zapata, declared today that he would surrender and co-operate with the central government, according to the private secretary of Provisional President Huerta, the situation in the state of Sonora is. Randits, he said, are overrunning portions of the state and families in the city of Hermosillo are abandoning their homes in an attack.

Governor Jose M. Maytorana has joined the governorship of Vera and his place has been taken by Enacia Pesqueira. The retiring governor declined to support the regime in Mexico City and is leading troops to sustain his position.

A confirmation has been received of the reported death of Madero, another brother. Conditions in southern Mexico, according to Wilson reports, seem to be improving. The governor of Yucatan, brother-in-law to the late President Diaz, is reported to have advised the Huerta government of his submission as the governor of Yucatan, and Campeche.

He came at Nogales, reporting a riot in eastern Sonora, says a band of rebels is gathering.

HEAVY ROOF COLLAPSES BEFORE OMAHA FIREMEN CAN SAVE HOTEL INMATES

Second Class Three Story Hostelry Swept by Flames.

PANIC SIEZES MANY, WHO JUMP

Smouldering Ruins Thought to Contain Score of Bodies.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 28.—Fire believed to have been caused by a gas explosion, cost 15 or more lives here today and caused a loss of $250,000.

The Dewey Hotel, a second class hostelry at Thirteenth and Farnam streets, was destroyed by fire which swept the three story building with a speed that precluded attempts at rescue. Some of the guests had time to reach the stairways, but others were caught by the collapsing roof of the structure before they could be rescued from window sills on which they had taken refuge.

Several of the victims jumped or fell from windows or met either instant death or mortal injury. At noon only about 25 out of 60 persons estimated to have been in the building had been accounted for, but it was hoped that the death list would be smaller than at first estimated as it was known that a score or more of those who had escaped left the neighborhood without revealing their identities.

In addition to the loss on the hotel proper several business firms who had their establishments in the building suffered.

The cause of the fire has not been determined. It started in the rear of the building but had gained headway before it was discovered. The lower floors of the Dewey hotel building were occupied by the Raphael-Fred Clothing Company, the Hiller Liquor Company, the Adams Express Company. The stock of all these companies was destroyed.

Met Instant Death. Charles Cuning, a bartender, who had a room on the Farnam street side of the hotel, jumped from a third story window and met instant death. He struck headfirst on the sidewalk. Mrs. C. E. Wilkins, wife of the proprietor of the hotel, who had a room on the second floor, dragged her sister, Miss Alice Bonnevill, to a window. There Miss Bonnevill collapsed. Mrs. Wilkins jumped and though two policemen broke her fall she was badly injured. Her sister's body is in the ruins.

Jesse D. Nold, night clerk, opened the door of his office on the second floor when he heard an explosion. He was driven back by smoke and flames. He attempted to arouse a few guests on that floor but soon had to seek the street to save his own life.

The few guests who escaped from second story windows or from the entrance on the Thirteenth street side did so in scanty attire. They were carried to a drug store across the street and to a nearby restaurant and later cared for at neighboring hotels.

When the firemen reached the burning hotel they saw a number of persons at windows in the two upper stories. Before ladders could be raised, however, the roof began to cave in and no one was rescued by the ladder men.

The known dead are:

MISS ALICE BONNEVILLE, jumped from third story, breaking neck.

CHARLES CUNING, jumped from third story, breaking neck.

JAMES PROKES, a coppermith.

CHARLES BEVERLY, employed in a local oyster house.

DAYTON PLANS MEMORIAL PARK FOR THE WRIGHTS

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—In commemoration of the achievements of Wilbur and Orville Wright in science and aviation, the Wright memorial commission of Dayton, incorporated here, plans to construct and maintain a memorial park in that city in which is to be a sculptural figure in bronze on the spot where the first flight in a heavier-than-air machine was made in September, 1904, by the Wright brothers. The flight of the Wright brothers more than eight years ago, was made in a complete circle. The spot on which the bronze figure will be placed will be designated as the place where "man first conquered the air."

SUFFRAGETS GAIN A POINT

Cause They Espouse Becomes Matter of Congressional Action.

SUB-COMMITTEE HEADED BY HOBSON

Will Report as to How Equal Suffrage Had Best be Treated.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Congress has taken up the woman suffrage question in earnest by the designation of a sub-committee headed by Representative Hobson to inquire and report to the house whether it would be best to leave the question of equal suffrage in the election of president and vice president to a constitutional amendment or to the action of separate states. Various committees of congress have for many years considered proposed amendments but none has ever reported one out.

Representatives Porter, of Pennsylvania, and Tribble, of Georgia, will work with Representative Hobson in the inquiry which will be finished and a report presented to the incoming congress before it ends two years hence.

Suffrage leaders are mostly in favor of a constitutional amendment to give women the ballot. There is some opposition to that plan, however, headed by those who believe it might better be left for the states to decide, and thereby escape a problem which might arise with the granting of equal suffrage in the southern states.

Those in favor of the latter plan point in support of their argument, to some little incidents which have happened to "General" Rosalie Jones and her army when it crossed the Mason and Dixon line into Maryland, and in some localities were joined by negro women marchers bearing banners "votes for negro women."

"General" Rosalie Jones and her suffrage "army" marched triumphantly into the capital shortly before noon today, through the capitol grounds and down Pennsylvania avenue with an escort of local enthusiasts and citizens which fairly choked the streets and delayed traffic. It was one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever seen here.

TO HIKE ON HONEYMOON

Young Couple Will Endeavor to Win Difficult Wager of $5,000.

TEST WILL SHOW MERITS OF FOOD.

He Will Eat No Meat and She No Vegetables for Five Years.

New York, Feb. 28.—A honeymoon to last for five years is the plan of Hubert G. A. Hessler, aged 20 years, and Mabel V. Broadie, 15 years old, who were married at the bride's home in New Brunswick, N. J., yesterday. Hessler in kakis and the bride in a hiking dress came to New York early today to start on their long ramble from city hall.

They declared that they held a contract under which the Majestic Athletic Association of Jackson, Miss., will pay each of them $5,000 upon their return to city hall five years from today with vouchers showing that Hessler had stuck strictly to a vegetable diet and his wife to a meat diet throughout the trip. They expect that the long test will decide reasonably well the merits of meat and vegetable food as a basis for physical endurance. Proof that they comply with the conditions imposed will be furnished by the vouchers to be signed by witnesses whenever they eat. These will be pasted in scrap books and forwarded to the athletic association at Jackson. The couple will not be allowed to eat anything or not, according to the terms of the contract.

In this stand will also be the invited guests of the President, members of the diplomatic corps, and the congressional set. The president and his aide will be in the small enclosure shown between the center columns of the stand. This enclosure has been fitted with glass windows, in anticipation of bad weather on March 4.

LIEUTENANT COLONELCY OF BEN F. WELTY LOST ON GOVERNOR'S ORDER

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—Major General Charles Dick of Akron, former United States senator, today, by action of Governor Cox, lost his office as division commander of the Ohio national guard, a position he has held for many years.

Under a ruling by Attorney General Hogan, holding that the guard as at present organized does not contain units enough to compose a division, the governor, through Adjutant General George E. Wood, issued an order dissolving the division formation of the guard.

Adjutant General Wood stated that the reformation of the guard places it on a war footing, ready for instant call. None of the brigade officials are affected by the order.

This wipes out the office of major general and the general staff officers of each functionary. General Dick had eleven officers on his general staff, and these are restored to the auxiliary organizations that they were detailed from to serve on the staff.

The guard as now organized consists of two brigades of infantry, three batteries of artillery, one battalion of engineers, one battalion of signal corps, two field hospitals, and two ambulance troops. These units fall short of the number necessary for a division.

A division consists of three brigades of infantry, two regiments of cavalry, two regiments of artillery, one battalion of engineers, one battalion of signal corps, four field hospitals and four ambulance companies. The Ohio guard is short one brigade, one artillery, cavalry and hospital ambulance companies.

General Dick is placed on the retired list of officers, by the order.

MAYBE WOODY WILL WANT TO BELONG WHEN HE SEES IT.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Members of the fashionable Chevy Chase club, whose invitation to President-elect Wilson to accept honorary membership therein was declined, today announced in view of the circumstances, "there was nothing further to be done so far as they were concerned."

It developed that Governor Wilson's letter was read at a recent meeting of the board of governors of the club, when it was decided that no action on it was necessary. President Thomas Hild, of the organization had contemplated calling a special meeting of the club but members of the board deemed it unnecessary. So far as the club is concerned the matter will be allowed to rest.

The offer of honorary membership will remain open, according to club officials, who today expressed their belief that next week the president on arriving here would change his mind.

BAXTER'S REPLY TO PROSECUTOR COLDLY POLITE.

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—In a polite, but formal way, Frank E. Baxter, state supervisor of banks, replied today to the letter addressed to him by Prosecutor Turner inviting him to make a statement as to the alleged manipulation of $27,000 of the funds of the defunct Columbus Savings and Trust Company, at the same time warning him that any thing he might say would be used against him at the April session of the grand jury.

In his letter from the Lima banking house of Samuel Baxter and Sons, Mr. Baxter states: "Your letter of February 24 is at hand and noted."

"I thank you for the invitation therein contained and assure you it will have my consideration. "Very truly, etc."

Because of the congested condition of the criminal court docket, the Gen. Baxter case growing out of a shortage between the amount alleged to have been turned over to the state at the time of the Columbus Savings and Trust Company failure and the amount found by the state supervisor's brother upon his count of the funds will not be tried during the present term of court but will go over to the April term.

While the order abolishes an incomplete formation, it also accomplishes the purpose of dropping from the service of the guard a man who for nearly twenty years was a factor in republican politics.

A site for the erection of a memorial to Oliver H. Perry, hero of the battle of Lake Erie during the war of 1812, will be dedicated to the national government by the state under the provisions of a bill introduced and advanced to second reading today by Representatives Cowan and Putnam county. The Aims to Cure Defect. Dr. King, representative from Ashland county, introduced a bill in the house, which would compel physicians to again report all births and deaths to the state bureau of vital statistics. The bill cures the defect pointed out recently by the supreme court under which the practice of reporting deaths and births was discontinued.

A bill by Representative Williams would permit cities to assess on street railway companies for improvements, as provided for in the franchises held by the street railway companies. A bill by Representative Kilpatrick, of Trumbull county, would provide state regulation for casualty insurance companies.

Representative King, of Ashland county, introduced a bill providing for an annual levy of 5-1000 of one mill for the maintenance of the state normal schools at Bowling Green and Kent. A bill by Representative Barthelmech, of Tuscarawas county, provides a license of $1 per year upon boats upon non-navigable streams. Representative Freeman introduced a bill which would compel street railway companies to carry firemen and policemen free of charge.

Sweeney of Cleveland, Introduces Needed Pen Reforms.

Sites Cases of Embezzlement Having Too Easy Time Repenting.

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—Public officials or bank officials who are sentenced to the penitentiary for juggling the people's money hereafter will not be given clerical and official positions in the state's prison and instead will be placed at hard labor like any ordinary prisoner, should a bill, introduced in the lower house of the legislature today, become a law. The same bill gives penitentiary prisoners an eight-hour workday.

Representative M. A. Sweeney, of Cleveland, introduced the measure. It has been the custom for many years to give the more prominent prisoners, who have held public office clerical or official work instead of the hard labor in the shops which falls to the lot of the ordinary prisoner.

Charles L. Warriner, of Cincinnati, former treasurer of the Erie Railroad, who was sent to the penitentiary for embezzlement, is now assistant to the chief clerk at the prison. U. G. Walker, of Cleveland, who was convicted of embezzlement in connection with the failure of the South Cleveland Banking Company, holds a similar position.

Former State Senator Isaac Huffman, serving a sentence for bribery, is clerk in the state shop of the penitentiary; former Senator J. R. Andrews, confined on a like charge, is clerk in the office of the prison chaplain, and Rodney Diegle, former sergeant-at-arms of the senate chamber, convicted on a bribery charge, is clerk in the prison room.

Representative Foreman, of Van Wert county, today introduced a bill which would allow municipalities to issue bonds for street improvements without a vote of the people, the levy not to be included in the 10-mill levy established by the Smith 1 per cent tax law.

ACTIVITY
IN BUILDING

Will Mark the Spring Season, According to Those Who Know.

FIFTEEN LOTS IN THE WEST END

Recently Purchased by Local Firm for Building Purposes.

Building operations in Lima will start in earnest just as soon as the weather is favorable, judging from the activity that is being displayed by real estate men and local investors in real estate during the past few weeks.

Within the past week, Roby and McLaughlin, local attorneys, have acquired possession of fifteen building lots on Franklin avenue between Elm street and Lakeside avenue, which they will place on the market as soon as the necessary improvements are made to the streets and sidewalks and sewage connections installed.

Along with the other property holders in that vicinity, they will petition the city council next Monday evening for a sewer to drain that while an effort will be made to have the street paved and sidewalks improved as early as possible.

Mr. Roby stated this morning that active building operations would start as soon as the weather was seasonable, and before the summer is over, that section will become an integral part of the city's residential district.

Building Permits Issued.

E. A. Macbeth, the local real estate agent, took out building permits at Clerk Taylor's office for nine new residences, which he will erect within the next few months. Among them is a two-story apartment house which he will build at the corner of Pine and Elm streets at a cost exceeding $4000. This apartment house will be built after the latest and most modern pattern, and when completed, will be one of the most convenient in the city. It will be built to accommodate four families, each of which will have the exclusiveness as in the ordinary residence.

The other eight houses will range in cost from $2000 to $4000 each, and will be erected in different parts of the city. They will be of frame structure, two stories in height.

Recently, the Home Builders' Realty Company were granted permits by the city clerk to build some ten residences, active work on which will be started as soon as the weather conditions are favorable for building.

Real estate men and others in close touch with building activities are authority for the statement that this spring will be marked by more building than ever before in the history of the city.

LOCAL TEAMS IN BOWLING TOURNAMENT
San Felipe and Allen County Club Wins Will Bowl at Toledo Next Tuesday.

Lima will be represented at the National Bowling Tournament, now being held at Toledo, by two crack teams, both of which expect to land the money when the final accounting is made. The San Felipe team and the Allen County Club teams are grooming themselves for their appearance at Toledo, which is scheduled for next Tuesday afternoon and evening. Members of the two teams will also bowl in the doubles and singles.

As preparations for the event, the two teams will bowl a match, game at 10. Allen County Club allies this evening to decide which is the better team. The match will be in full uniform which will be worn at Toledo next week.

So far, no so-called have been made that worry the local bowlers, who have hosted the high score of the tournament so far made on several occasions. Whether bowling on strange alleys will affect their work or not remains to be seen.

Day, considered one of the best bowlers in the city, has the high score for the month at the Allen County alleys, rolling 278 last Saturday. His total for three games at that time was 744, far ahead of the high score at the tournament to date. Betts, another crack ten-pin artist is also rolling some high scores at the alleys, and the fans expect both of these men to land well inside the money.

MOTORCYCLE TAGS HAVE ARRIVED.

All Owners Required by City Ordinance to Pay a License Fee of $2 Per Year.

The long awaited motor cycle tags for 1913 have arrived, and can now be secured by local motorcycleists at City Auditor Simpson's office upon payment of $2 license fee. The new tags are oval in shape, of white color with black lettering. "Lima, Ohio," is printed at the top of the tag, the number in the center, and "1913" at the bottom.

The city ordinance provides that every owner of a motorcycle in the city shall pay a license fee of $2 per year to the city, and failure to do so is punishable by a heavy fine. Owing to the fact that no arrangements had been made to secure tags for 1913, the owners have been allowed to ride their cars without the required tags.

Mayor Shook stated this morning that he expected every owner to secure his tag within the next few days, and that after a reasonable time had elapsed, that the police would be ordered to arrest all riders who have not complied with the city ordinance.

Three hundred and fifty tags were ordered by the city auditor, which is expected to be enough to supply the demand. Last year, over two hundred were issued, but the number of owners is constantly growing, and provisions were made for a healthy increase in the number of machines owned in the city.

Home of Man Killed on the C. & E. at Spencerville, in Hamilton, Ind.

G. F. SANXTER WAS VERY YOUNG MAN.

Had Been With Erie for but One Short Week Before Accident.

After a very diligent search, during which telegrams and messages flew broadcast throughout the country, the home and the people related to G. F. Sanxter, the man killed on the Erie Railroad at Spencerville on Tuesday evening, have been located. At the time of the accident and shortly thereafter there was no idea held by the Spencerville people, the railroad officials, nor the coroner of the county as to where the man was from, or who or where his parents and relatives were located. Today the authorities have received the information that they had so earnestly sought.

G. F. Sanxter was a native of Indiana, a Hoosier, and his home was at Hamilton, Ind. He was just in the prime of life when the unfortunate accident occurred which killed him instantly. He was but 23 years old and was unmarried. He had been with the C. & E. Railroad but a week in the capacity of brakeman. A Hamilton undertaker came to Spencerville, and receiving the remains returned with them to the bereaved home.

Owing to the fact that Washington's birthday anniversary fell on Saturday this year, the local lodge postponed the usual celebration until the regular lodge meeting last evening. The lodge session was started in advance of the usual hour, in order to give plenty of time for the exemplification of the ritualistic work and the informal exercises to follow.

The house committee had made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the membership, a large majority of whom were present and everything passed off in splendid style.

EXHIBIT AUTO IN HOTEL LOBBY

Overland Car of Latest Design Prominently Displayed in Hotel Norval Lobby.

Displaying automobiles in hotel lobbies is getting to be quite a fad with local dealers of late. Pedestrians on north Main street yesterday and today were surprised to see a 1912 four-passenger Overland, torpedo, of the latest design on the floor of the Hotel Norval lobby, where it can be seen without trouble by passersby.

The big car was backed into the front door of the hotel with its own power yesterday afternoon, and space set aside for it in the front part of the lobby. It was received by the Overland agent on east Market street, and is attracting no little attention.

Only a few weeks ago a Single-baker chassis of the latest design was on exhibition for several days in the lobby of the Lima House, the window being taken out to permit the car to be backed into the lobby.

Greater Loyalty to Order Urged by All Speakers to Secure More Efficient Work.

Lima Lodge Loyal Order of Moose celebrated their third anniversary last evening in the Moose hall, Main and Spring streets. Attorney J. G. Hersa filled the position of toastmaster. Among those responding to speeches were Dr. J. B. Poling, R. D. Kahle and Shaw Johnson, who urged a closer relationship to secure more efficient work.

The supper which was served, was in the hands of the women who composed the circle of Moose.

SPEED DEMON IS FINED BY MAYOR.

Colored Chauffeur Paid $10 for Exceeding the Speed Limit in the City Limits.

William Johnson, colored chauffeur for Attorney W. L. Mackenzie, was arrested by the police this morning on a warrant charging him with violating the speed law on Friday, February 22nd. The number of the machine was secured at the time that the officer made the report of the violation, but it was not until this morning that a letter was received from the state automobile department giving the name of the owner of the car.

Johnson pleaded guilty, and was ined $10 and costs, which was paid by his employer. Mr. Mackenzie is the mayor that he was not sufficiently in accord with his policy of prosecuting speed violators, and that he had given orders not to drive the car beyond the limit allowed by the law under no conditions.

HAVE THE POWER AND EXERCISE IT FOR SELFISH GAIN

Washington, Feb. 25.—Control of a "few powerful concerns" of making the sugar traffic of the country gives them a leverage for controlling the rates, and there are indications that they have not failed to use the right of their advantage, says the interstate commerce commission in a decision today handed down that the rates on sugar from the Hawaiian Islands to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans, without the issuance of an order, is implied, said the commission, that the roads affected would reduce their rates in proportion to the charges from other points.

THE SHORT BALLOT.

The short ballot is one of the reforms for which the people of Ohio have longed for many years. The method of choosing public servants has become so cumbersome that the average citizen looks forward to election day with fear and trembling. The blanket ballot has become a stumbling block in the pathway of progressive movements, and public opinion is now ripe for the removal of the obstacle. The short ballot reform, therefore, must soon extend to all the state, county, municipal and township elections, so that the people may be able to choose more intelligently when selecting men for public trust.

The proposed short ballot for the state will confine the elective officials to the governor, the lieutenant governor and members of the supreme court. All the other officials are to be appointed by the governor. Such should be the case, even aside from the cumbersome ballot, because the governor is held responsible for the acts of the whole state administration, and he should have the privilege of surrounding himself with subordinates who are in full sympathy with his policies.
The same principle should apply to municipal affairs, where the mayor must bear the whole burden of responsibility for everything connected with city administration. — East Liverpool Review.

ATHLETICS AND HEALTH.

University athletics and the conduct of intercollegiate contests should receive a more serious consideration from those who assume responsibility for these features of American college life. Too often any criticism of long-established practices is resented or ignored because it would abolish or modify some firmly implanted customs.
Only after years of patient unremitting effort has the plea for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July led to a reform which will soon evolve into a nation-wide plan of rational celebration. Persistent ex-posure of the dangers of reckless football contests with their attendant fatalities cannot fail to bring welcome changes sooner or later.
This is a most timely moment in which to inaugurate a campaign against athletic recklessness. Conservatism is the key-note in campaigns of progress in all departments of national activity. Propaganda for the conservation of health and life is directly furthered by this general spirit of the times. If college athletics of today are a menace to health, they cannot escape the attack of those who are alert for every evidence of human extravagance and waste. The enthusiasts for physical education have hitherto failed to emphasize the important distinction between those strenuous performances which tax

the capacities of the body to its utmost (comprehended in the term "athletics"), and that exercise of the bodily functions more appropriately included under the designation "physical education." Europeans have a far happier expression for the employment of their bodily activities in the word "sport," which implies the combination of a healthy spirit of pleasure and satisfaction with what we call exercise. Such an attitude is almost unknown here. Instead, there exists a form of over-doing that finds its chief reward in the applause of the multitude rather than in the joy of the performance. "Athletics" have long been under the dominance of so-called "trainers," frequently men of keen judgment and technical skill, but usually persons without any systematic acquaintance with physiologic truths. Their sole concern is to turn out a winning team or a victorious athletic giant. The best intellectual feature of rival contests—the encouragement for each man to put forth the best that is in him and to exercise his own ingenuity in the development and maintenance of an efficient, superior body—is suppressed by the advent of that guardian saint, the trainer. It can be freely admitted, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, that the cultivation of physical intelligence furnishes a valuable asset to man in developing co-ordination and promoting death and happiness. But when the results of vigorous sports or exhausting struggles are involved, something more than a "pardonable pride in an expanding chest and swelling biceps" should furnish the guiding motive. The obvious abuses of athletics must be threshed out.

MADERO'S FALL.

There is no more graphic account of a Mexican revolution than that famous one by Madame Calderon de la Barca, and in reading over again
those daily notes picturing the quarrel of July, 1840, when Urrea and Gobeas Farias took the palace and President Bustamante shut himself up in the citadel—the reverse of what happened the other day and yet the same thing—one is impelled to ask just one question.
Is it possible with such an extraordinary coincidence of external—an almost automatic repetition of even minute details after an interval of 73 years—that Mexico can have advanced, that it has anything to show today in its public life for the heroic labors of Benito Juarez,
the lawyer, and of Porfirio Diaz, the soldier?

The answer is that Madero's fall is not the wretched ending of a dreamer's career, not the appalling
failure of democratic experiments,
that it appears at the close range
from the citadel to the national palace of Mexico City. Don Pancho Madero's fall is the dropping of the seed. What the seed will bring forth no man can tell, for the soil
that has received it is that teeming Indian world which no white man ever fathomed, least of all those who have dwelt on its uppermost strata since the fall of Montezuma. But we know what the seed was, that was buried in a ground filled with the most ruthless of tools ever invented. It was the coming forward of a civilian to interrupt the rule of the soldier (what Francisco Madero did was essentially to hark back to Benito Juarez, the civic founder of the Mexican republic) and more; it was the first assertion of an entirely new thing in the Mexico of Spanish speech, namely, a middle class. The essential, not yet, perhaps, of a self-governing but at least of a govern-able entity, is unquestionably there.
It was not Madero who asserted this middle class. It was the middle class that produced Madero and his work.

Mexico can never be the same again, after Madero. It does not matter what happens tomorrow; it is of no importance whether the triumvirate, Huerta, Diaz and Blau-quet, shall hold together, fight, or all go down; even intervention is not of moment compared with the great event, the turning point in Mexican history, which is the rise of a middle class. It is the middle class alone that can make a nation of Mexico by welding its many ethnic stocks together, no matter under what kind of a government. It is the lasting merit of Porfirio Diaz that the middle class could grow

and produce Francisco Madero.—

INAUGURAL PLANS
ALMOST READY

Arrangements Made For 20,000
Militia.

GOVERNORS TO BE IN PARADE

Many States to Send Uniformed National Guardsmen—Procession Will Be Monstrous Affair—How Officials Will Be Given Oath—Senators Elect
to Be Sworn in Formally.

With several states arranging to send additional troops of militia to participate in the inaugural ceremonies, the inaugural committee recently estimated that fully 20,000 national guardsmen would be in line March 4 as a part of the escort to President Elect Wilson.
Thirteen governors of states and the members of their staffs will ride in the parade, according to definite assurances received by the committee, while the executives of at least three commonwealths have the matter under advisement.

Pennsylvania and Georgia will send additional troops. In addition to the First and Second Infantry of the Georgia militia that state will be represented by the Fifth Infantry of Atlanta, numbering about 500 men and commanded by Colonel E. B. Pomeroy.
The First and Second Infantry will be composed of 400 men each, so that Georgia will have 1,300 men in line.

2,500 Militiamen From Pennsylvania.
The additional Pennsylvania entries indicate that that commonwealth will be represented in the parade by about 2,500 militiamen. Nothing definite has been heard from New Jersey, but it is expected that Governor Wilson's state will send all of its national guardsmen to Washington for the inaugural ceremonies. In this event New Jersey will have the largest representation of militiamen in the parade. Pennsylvania probably will send the second largest body of state troops, with Massachusetts ranking a close third. Virginia and Maryland will be represented by from 1,800 to 2,000 militiamen each.

The governors who have given definite promise that they will ride in the parade are those of Virginia, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Illinois, New York,
Massachusetts, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri and Delaware. The state executives of New Mexico, Arkansas and Alabama may also be in Washington for the inauguration, according to advice received by the inaugural committee.

Planning Quarters For Soldiers.
Under the direction of Major Leonard Wood, U. S. A., chief of staff, who is chairman of the committee on military organizations, maps are now being prepared in the war department designating the places where the various companies of soldiers, sailors and citizens who are to participate in the parade will be assigned prior to the formation of the parade. The mammoth escort, after passing in review before the president, will proceed along Pen-sylvania avenue to Washington circle, where it will disband. The various companies, sections and divisions of the parade will return to the central part of the city by streets running parallel to Pennsylvania avenue both north and south.

Scenes of the Inauguration.
Following are some of the inaugural ceremony plans.

The doors of the senate chamber will be thrown open at 11 o'clock on the morning of March 4 to those entitled to reserved seats on the floor of the senate.

The members of the supreme court of the United States will enter the senate chamber at 11:45 a. m. and, after being announced, will take their seats.
The members of the house of representatives will then follow and take their seats in the space reserved for them. Then will follow the members of the diplomatic corps.

President Taft and President Elect Wilson, escorted to the capitol by the committee on arrangements, will enter the senate wing at the bronze door on the east side. They will go directly to the president's room where they will remain until the committee on arrangements waits upon them and escorts them to the senate chamber. They will occupy seats reserved for them in front of the vice president's desk. The committee on arrangements will occupy seats immediately on the left.

The vice president elect will be escorted to the room reserved for him by the committee on arrangements. He will then be escorted to the senate chamber, where the oath of office will be administered to him by the president pro tem. of the senate. After prayer by the chaplain the vice president will deliver his inaugural address in the senate chamber and will then administer the oath of office to the senators elect.

Following the organization of the senate will occur the principal ceremony, that of the formal induction of President Wilson into office.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Lively discussion was precipitated in congressional circles by a published statement credited to President-elect Wilson that he intended to spend part of each working day in the president's room at the capitol, to keep in closer touch with legislative affairs. Such action on the part of the president would overturn a precedent which has restricted the president's visits to the capitol to the last hours of a session of congress.

Democratic leaders today discussed the reported plan of Mr. Wilson with reluctance though many seemed to favor it, and others qualified by their expressions.

"If President Wilson wishes to come to the capitol and advise with congress he will be welcome," said Senator O'Gorman.

"The closer the president and congress can get in the transaction of public business the better it will be," said Senator Pomeroy of Ohio.
His expression was concurred in by Senator Johnson of Maine.

The chief reason for the long established precedent keeping the president in the White House a mile away from the capitol is said to be a sentiment in the house and senate toward what has been interpreted as "presidential snobism," upon the freedom of action of congress.

"Much will depend on what he comes for," said Senator Tillman.

"If he comes to advise with us we shall be glad to have him; if he comes to dictate to us, as I do not believe he would, we should not want him here. When he has an opportunity to study conditions at a closer range I think he will change
his mind about coming."

Senators Fletcher, democrat, and Burton, republican, spoke approv-
ingly of the plan.

WIFE BEATER IS FLOGGED.

Prisoner Chooses That Punishment and Thanks Sheriff For Lashes.

"Much obliged, sheriff," said Robert Phillips of Frederick, Md., recently after he had received fifteen lashes of the whip for beating his wife.

The court had sentenced the man to sixty days in jail, a twenty-five dollar fine or the whipping post. Phillips chose the post.

Sheriff Fagan administered the lashing. The sheriff is a lifelong friend of the prisoner, but he showed no mercy
in inflicting punishment.

Phillips' hands were cuffed to the bars of a jail cell, and, with fifty spectators present, his back was bared, and the sheriff entered with the whip.

"I don't like to do this," said Fagan,
"but a man who would beat his wife deserves it."

"I know it, Mr. Fagan," said the prisoner, "and I don't blame you."

POOR OLD TOWN
GABFEST CENTER
OF SKIRT ARMIES.

Washington, Feb. 28.—With the arrival of "General" Rosalie Jones
and her "army" of suffragist sisters, combined with the mass meeting of the "anti-suffragists," the national capital will be the scene today of a desperate battle of oratory between the two opposing camps. The anti-suffragists affect to believe that the coming of "General" Jones and her "hikers" will serve only to stimulate interest in their meeting instead of detracting from it. There was great activity in both headquarters today.
The suffragists were especially busy,
groups of cavalry women gathering in front of the headquarters, while the automobiles were early decorated with "votes for women" banners, chugged up noisily only to chug

away again toward the Maryland state line from which direction the "hikers" were expected to come.

Plans were made by the suffragist to open their meetings as soon as "General" Jones and her party arrived.

The mass meeting to protest against the grant of the ballot to women will be held in a downtown theatre and will be presided over by Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the anti-suffrage organization.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT

an Early Settlement of Controversy Between
Erie and the City.

OHIO ELECTRIC IS DRAWN INTO CASE

President Schoepf to Meet
With Council Next Monday.

A tentative agreement was made by the Erie railroad company, through representatives, W. O. Johnson, of Chicago, and J. W. Half, local attorney, to build a $750,000 subway under its tracks at Metcalf street, last evening in a conference between the railroad attorneys, and the city council, sitting in a committee of the whole.

The company is also willing to pay 65 per cent of the cost of a subway at St. Johns avenue, the city or Ohio Electric Company to pay the remaining 35 per cent, and also agreed to protect the alley connecting Atlantic avenue and Metcalf street by building a retaining wall.

Every demand made by the city council was accepted by the railroad company with the exception of one condition that the entire expense of the subway at St. Johns avenue shall be borne by the Erie and Ohio Electric Companies. The company is perfectly willing to pay 65 per cent of the cost, but think that the city should deal with the Ohio Electric Company for the payment of the remainder. Attention was called to the fact that the company was anxious to close its crossing several years ago, but that the Ohio Electric company's predecessor company objected to the plan.

In the original proposition submitted by council to the Erie railroad company, it was set forth that the Erie company should build a subway at Metcalf street at its own expense, the St. Johns avenue subway jointly with the Ohio Electric company, and that the alley connecting Atlantic avenue with Metcalf street should be protected by a retaining wall. In return for which the city would grant the company the right to cross with additional tracks at St. Johns, Reese, Tanner and Greenlawn avenues and Main and Metcalf streets, and permit the raising of the grade at Greenlawn avenue 1.4 foot. The company needs these rights to proceed with its work of double-tracking the entire system from New York to Chicago.

Nothing definite.

While considerable headway was made in the negotiations between the railroad company and the city last evening, none of the questions involved were definitely settled. Another meeting of the council as a committee of the whole will be held Monday evening, after the regular session, which will be attended by President Kealey Schoepf of the Ohio Electric company. The meeting Monday evening is for the purpose of ascertaining definitely the attitude of the Ohio Electric company on the several points involved.

It is quite likely that a special meeting of the council will be called Tuesday or Wednesday evening of next week to decide what shall be done in relation to the different matters, as it is not desired to hamper the Erie railroad company in its work longer than is necessary to protect the interests of the city.

The company has a steam shovel in south Lima at the present time, and is eager to begin work on the Metcalf street subway at once. It is not believed that the delay will be long, as the prospects of agreement are very bright.

The council has asked the Erie company to build subways of 14 feet clearance, but the Ohio Electric wants the clearance to be 16 feet. It is understood that the electric company is planning to use the St. Johns avenue track to shorten the distance on the Lima-Springfield line, while the Metcalf subway would be likely used should a belt line to south Lima be constructed. If the benefit of a larger clearance would accrue to the electric company, the additional cost would have to be borne by that company.

The Ohio Electric company, under the law, would be compelled to pay not less than one-half of the 35 per cent of the cost of the St. Johns avenue subway, and should it desire to use the Metcalf street subway, a like proportion of the cost of the Metcalf street improvement would have to be paid by that company.

Just what plans that the Ohio Electric company have in relation to the improvement will no doubt be disclosed by President Schoepf at the meeting Monday evening, and will influence council in its action.

Six Members Present.

All members of council but McGrievy were present at the conference last evening, which was hurried by called late in the afternoon. City Solicitor Jackson and City Auditor Simpson were also present.

The Displays of Cars Cause
Many Expressions of Appreciation

A most enthusiastic crowd of spectators, prospective purchasers, late buyers, and every type of automobile fan was on hand last evening at the Memorial hall, to see the new models of all the cars that are retailed in this city. Despite the inclemency of the weather, which was decidedly prohibitive of an enormous attendance, as it was disheartening to the even extreme motorist, a surprising number turned out to see the show.

According to the pre-arranged program Mr. B. A. Gramm formally opened the show at seven-thirty. Everything was in top notch shape. The crowd in their admiration of the cars were well nigh as verbiage as were the dealers with a prospective customer. The Cadillac, "see how it works" cutaway chassis was probably the center of attraction. This display was a method, not only of showing the manner that the Cadillac is constructed, but for demonstrating to the uninitiated the fundamental principles of the gasolene motor and its adaptation to the modern automobile.

The exhibit in the east room had been arranged by the time the evening session was begun. The entire north side of this room is occupied by the Gladwell Crossley Motor company, with a very good display of the popular Excelsior, Thor, and Pope motorcycles. In addition to the machines themselves this exhibit is featured by a platform seating of each a one and a two cylinder engine, driven by an electrical motor, and displaying the principal of the motorcycle engine.

On the east side of the room is the display of the Lima Rubber company. Here are shown all kinds of rubber accessories, including tires, patches, tubes, small hoses, etc. In the southwest corner of this room is the display of the Lima Cycle company. Here are shown several specimens of the latest models of the latest motorcycles. In a small ante-

The Displays of Cars Cause
Many Expressions of Appreciation

A most enthusiastic crowd of spectators, prospective purchasers, late buyers, and every type of automobile fan was on hand last evening at the Memorial hall, to see the new models of all the cars that are retailed in this city. Despite the inclemency of the weather, which was decidedly prohibitive of an enormous attendance, as it was disheartening to the even extreme motorist, a surprising number turned out to see the show.

According to the pre-arranged program Mr. B. A. Gramm formally opened the show at seven-thirty. Everything was in top notch shape. The crowd in their admiration of the cars were well nigh as verbiage as were the dealers with a prospective customer. The Cadillac, "see how it works" cutaway chassis was probably the center of attraction. This display was a method, not only of showing the manner that the Cadillac is constructed, but for demonstrating to the uninitiated the fundamental principles of the gasolene motor and its adaptation to the modern automobile.

The exhibit in the east room had been arranged by the time the evening session was begun. The entire north side of this room is occupied by the Gladwell Crossley Motor company, with a very good display of the popular Excelsior, Thor, and Pope motorcycles. In addition to the machines themselves this exhibit is featured by a platform seating of each a one and a two cylinder engine, driven by an electrical motor, and displaying the principal of the motorcycle engine.

On the east side of the room is the display of the Lima Rubber company. Here are shown all kinds of rubber accessories, including tires, patches, tubes, small hoses, etc. In the southwest corner of this room is the display of the Lima Cycle company. Here are shown several specimens of the latest models of the latest motorcycles. In a small anteroom that adjoins this room to the west is shown the Henderson motorcycle, a new type for the eyes of the Lima enthusiasts. It is a four cylinder machine, having a foot platform, a clutch and gear control, and many other new additions.

Those dealers who have the matter in hand and have exhibits in the local show feel very highly gratified at the attendance last evening, and at the enthusiasm. Everywhere words of highest praise and commendation were heard for the Lima show. Everyone who was present last evening who had been in attendance at the Toledo Auto show passed the remarks that the Lima show was the better of the two.

The Lima show, under the direction of President Counsellor, and Secretary Shappell, has started off with a boom. There were about four hundred people in attendance last evening, a large number this morning, while this afternoon the hall filled up at an early hour. Last evening the boys from the Lima high school, under the leadership of Prof. Calvert, did some very fine singing. This was greatly appreciated, as was the solo that Mr. Calvert rendered. The special work of the Jubilee Quartet was of the finest quality, and the boys are to be congratulated. This evening Miss Millie Sonntag will add to the pleasures of the show with several well chosen solos. During the evening the Hunter Opera House orchestra filled the large hall with music, a harmonious accompaniment to the rapid fire talk of the enthusiastic dealers and appreciative spectators.

The committees that have in hand the making of the arrangements and to whom a great deal of the credit of the success of the show is due, are the following:

Publicity—W. E. Clark, E. Hawisher, and W. E. Rudy.

House—J. J. Carson, G. W. Griffith, and Clem Thompson.

WOMEN TO PLAY BIG PART IN WILSON INAUGURATION

Suffragists' Parade on March 3 to Be Wonderful Event.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN" will be the slogan heard on the streets of Washington on March 3. It will not only be heard, but seen, people along Pennsylvania avenue Seventeenth street and other thoroughfares traversed by the suffragist parade being given a chance to see little else. It will be the battery of the marchers, will shine from banners, transparencies and floats and will greet the eye and the ear in every way that can be devised by the army of thousands of suffragists that will invade the capital from practically every state to the Union. It is designed even to go up in the air with it, a suffragist aeroplane carrying the magic legend above the heads of the marchers.

The parade will represent the progress of women through the ages, sections of it being in the costumes of the middle ages and others representing successive centuries from that time to the present. At one time it was designed to go back even farther and garb some of the marchers in the flowing robes of an Imit Greece and Rome, but the plan was abandoned when those in charge reflected with a shiver fall in line and hike across the state of Maryland.

The "Petticoat Cavalry."

About eight days after the departure of "General" Rosalie Jones from New York Mrs. Gus Ruhlman is to lead a body of suffragists from the same town, but these are to go on horseback. In the militant terminology that the suffragists are adopting this is to be the cavalry, the hikers constituting the infantry. It is not stated whether Mrs. Ruhlman is to be a general or only a colonel, but anyway she will be the feminine edition of the "man on horseback." She will not follow the same route as General Jones, seeking to convert a different strip of territory.

This cavalry idea is to be quite the thing in the parade. Mrs. Richard Burleson of Texas, wife of a United States army officer, who is also a cousin of Representative A. B. Burleson, on the usual brand of weather pulled off in Washington on inauguration days. The women workers will also be represented. It is asserted that there are now 6000,000 of these in the nation who have invaded the occupations of men and are earning their own living. Women lawyers, doctors, ministers, teachers, actresses, newspaper workers, stenographers, clerks, business women, mill workers and other feminine toilers will be represented. Other sections of the parade will show the number of countries that have granted women the vote in whole or in part; also the nine American states in which suffrage has triumphed. It was planned to have one float present in a striking way to the eyes of beholders the ones from whom the vote is withheld—a baby, an imbecile, a convict and a woman.

The Hike to Washington.

One section of the suffragist pageant will be given up to "General" Rosalie Jones and her fellow hikers from New York to Washington. It was the intrepid "General" Jones who led "Colonel" Ida Craft, "Surgeon General" Dock and one or two others in the march from New York to Albany to present a suffrage petition to Governor Sulzer. After this stunt was pulled off with due publicity the grander design dawned on the mind of the dashing leader that still wider publicity could be gained by a hike to Washington to present a similar petition to President Elect Wilson.

It was on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, that the marchers got under way. At the start off there were "General" Jones, "Colonel" Craft, two captains and eleven privates. One of the fair recruits had given up her job to join the glad procession. It being rather damp marching across the North river and the Jersey meadows, the hikers compromised by riding in a tube train to Newark. Colonel Craft did not think this was entirely right and tried to ease her conscience by marching back and forth through the train, much to the disgust of other passengers, who shivered as she opened the doors. Colonel Craft concluded that, as she could not march as fast as the train ran, even this method smacked of fraud, so she reluctantly subsided. The actual march started at Newark. An attempt is being made to convert every body en route; also to take on recruits. Trenton, Philadelphia, Baltimore and various intervening towns lie along the line of march, and if any "ants" are left therein it will be because they would not hear. At Philadelphia a lone man has promised to join the procession, and at Baltimore a whole company of suffragists are to

is to be the grand marshal of the parade and is to be accompanied by a cavalry squad of about fifty. At one time it was reported that Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, was to be one of this fair company. There will also be cavalrymen, beg pardon, cavalrywomen, from Virginia. The official announcements of the affair call them "petticoat cavalry."

One of the humors of the situation is furnished by the march stolen on the regular inaugural committees by the suffragists. It is the custom to reserve all the rooms at hotels and boarding houses in advance for those attending the inauguration. This year the women went about early reserving all the choice rooms in Washington for their followers so tant when the regular inauguration committees began their canvass no desirable quarters were left.

The object of the pageant is boldly announced. It is the beginning of a nation wide campaign for an amendment to the federal constitution assuring women the ballot throughout the United States. Heretofore the suffragists have confined their attention to the states. Now they are going after the nation. March 3 is chosen because at that time Washington will be full of people attending the inauguration, and the suffragists can thus impress the incoming administration.

Noted Women Enlisted.

Advance notices from suffragist headquarters present some glowing promises for the parade from which the following points are taken.

In preparation for the procession the suffragists for the last few weeks have been carrying on an active campaign which will be gradually increased in excitement until the climax of endeavor is reached on March 3. An average of six meetings a day, including at least one street meeting, are being held with such well known women as Mrs. John Rodgers, Jr., of New York, sister-in-law of Secretary of War Stimson doing the speaking. Those who are making the active preparations include some of the best known women in the country. Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, wife of the progressive senator from Wisconsin, has been actively at work, and her daughter, Miss Pola La Follette, is chairman of the committee on actresses. Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the secretary of agriculture, is chairman of the committee on musicians, and Mrs. F. T. Dubois, wife of former Senator Dubois, is in charge of women's clubs.

Miss Alice Paul of Philadelphia is in active charge of all plans and Mrs. Glenna Smith Tinnin of Washington and Miss Hazel MacKaye will direct the pageant feature.

Nordica Will Help.

While the procession and pageant is marching along Pennsylvania avenue a series of tableaux will be in progress on the treasury steps. Miss Nordica, impersonating Columbus, will be the central figure of the tableaux, and with her will be Justice, Hope, Liberty, Peace, Charity, the virtues with which woman is supposed to be endowed. Florence Fleming Noyes, the classical dancer, will take the part of Liberty, and equally well known women will take the other parts. Scores of boys and girls in fancy costumes will fill out the scenes, and an orchestra will accompany all movements.

As Miss Inez Milholland of New York, herald of the procession, approaches the treasury building riding horseback and dressed in yellow the five Virtues will form a semicircle about Columbus, with their attendants lack of them in wedge form, all making Columbus's crown.

A giant mass meeting is to be held at Memorial Continental hall, the home of the D. A. R., at the conclusion of the procession. Here Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and equally well known women will deliver addresses.

The suffrage speakers who have been addressing meetings in Washington have been having some difficulty about their appeals, because in the District of Columbia neither men nor women vote. Speakers from other sections, not always realizing this fact, have been unable to appeal directly to the men for justice for the men themselves here have no more political rights than the women.

Efforts on the part of men who want suffrage in the District to confuse the two issues have been met with the diplomatic response that "we want equal suffrage, and you have it."

From Baltimore will go a string of golden chariots, drawn by milk white steeds and driven by suffragists dressed in Roman costumes. The forty miles from Baltimore to Washington are to be covered in one day, and a squad of petticoat cavalry is to ride as an escort of honor. The Baltimore chariots have become famous in suffrage processions in the east.

Suffragist Pioneers Honored.

One section of the parade will represent the early efforts for the cause in America, beginning with the first convention in 1848. Descendants of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton and others of the early leaders are to participate, dressed in the costumes of the period.

The workers in behalf of the pageant have not had all clear sailing. At first the Washington society leaders were cold, but when they discovered it was all the rage they fell over each other in the rush to secure prominent places in the pageant. Perhaps the squelching of the inaugural ball also helped the suffragists, some of the modistes and others enlisting in a spirit of revenge and also with the idea of getting rid of some of their accumulated millinery and dress fabrics.

Major Sylvester, chief of the Washington police, at first said that the fair marchers could not appear on Pennsylvania avenue, but after ducking the resultant storm the major sang small and discreetly lost himself in the background. The boys who threatened to turn loose mice and rats along the parade route have also been properly squelched.

Representative J. Thomas Hefflin of Alabama, who advised the women of Virginia not to march in the procession on the ground that woman suffrage breaks up the home, brought down the displeasure of the suffragist leaders on his head. Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house, and Mrs. Helen H. Gardener, one of the active leaders in the procession plans, issued statements denying the claims of the gentleman from Alabama.

Mrs. Gardener called Mr. Hefflin "the Bean Brummel of the house" and said that thirty three years before he was born Abraham Lincoln wrote a letter in which he said, "I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens, by no means excluding women."

From all of which it doth appear that woman-lovely woman is amply able to take care of herself; likewise that if the American suffragette does not break windows like her English sister she at least breaks into print.

"BREWSTER'S MILLIONS."

"Brewster's Millions," a dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's entertaining story will be the attraction at the Faurot on Saturday afternoon and night.

Walter Allen will be seen in the title character of "Monty" Brewster and an excellent cast is supporting him.

There is nothing new to say about the play. The triumph of stardom is attained in the wonderful scene on shipboard, the yacht rocking in the gale when "Monty" sounds the signal of distress thus disposing in less than a second of the $500,000, which had been working him for weeks.

Of course, it is all wildly improbable, so was the book, but there is fun enough in this whimsical story of frenzied finance to make even the blazé play-gone laugh. Seats are now selling.

PERJURY IS THE CHARGE

Upon Which A. L. Burkholder Must Appear Before Squire Everett.

SECOND DIVORCE CASE IS FILED

By Same Woman Against Same Man, and on the Same Charge.

A. L. Burkholder must answer to a very serious charge in the court of justice of the Peace E. E. Everett when the case that was recently filed against him is called on next Wednesday.

It is affirmed in the petition that the defendant, A. L. Burkholder, was guilty of perjury in the testimony which he gave before the court of common pleas in a recent case. The papers in the case accuse the defendant of stating under oath that had been administered by Clerk Graham, to something not true. The complaining witness in this case is J. L. Sellars, the plaintiff in the case before the common pleas court which is the basis of the present trouble. The matter will be heard next week.

Asking the courts to free her for a second time from the same man, Mrs. William J. Richmond yesterday afternoon filed a petition with the Allen county courts. The married life of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Richmond seems from their legal history to have been a bit stormy at times. This new case is the second that has been filed by the wife on the same grounds, that of extreme cruelty.

This couple were first married in Covington, Ky., in 1903. Later a divorce was granted to the wife in the courts of Allen county. In 1911 the divorced man and woman got together again, and were soon married again. The wife is now filing a second divorce petition. She prays for absolute divorce for custody of the seven-year-old son, for alimony, and for lawyers' fees.

Nobody Can Tell If You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

DRUGGIST SAYS WHEN MIXED WITH SULPHUR PREVENTS DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching, and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur sedge at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur"; it surely helps folks appear years younger. H. F. Vorkamp.

DAMAGES ASKED FAR TOO HIGH FOR SUCH WOMEN

Amherst, O., Feb. 28.—Prosecuting Attorney B. F. Adams today decided to take from its grave the body of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bourbliss, recently buried there. Coroner E. E. Tamarow will hold an inquest to determine the cause of death.

In the meantime Mrs. Bourbliss has disappeared from her home and her husband has filed suit in common pleas court at Elyria for $1,000 damages from Joseph Appalour, charging alienation of Mrs. Bourbliss' affections. Appalour was recently a boarder in the Bourbliss home.

Parties have been searching for days for Mrs. Bourbliss in the belief that she committed suicide from grief over her baby's death.

ALPINE CURLING.

Almost Surgical Skill Used on the Ice to Make It Perfect.

Scotch players regard the conditions of Alpine curling as somewhat luxurious. The ice is almost too perfect, and the tactics that proved successful on the rough ice of a Scottish pond have to be abandoned in favor of more subtle methods.

The ordinary visitor to the Alps has very little idea of the science and work which are necessary to insure a good rink, and the Scotch curler who has been accustomed to the rough ice found by a few nights' frost is somewhat startled when he sees an army of ice-men working through the night. A rink in the Alps is a costly business. The ground is carefully leveled in the spring, and after the first fall of snow a squad of ice-men tramp the snow down as evenly as possible. The flooring is done in a series of elaborate stages, which can be carried out only when the sun is shining.

The secret of good ice is to go slowly. This was proved by a clever experiment. The discovery of this was due to Rudolph Bauman, perhaps the best ice-man in the Alps. He filled two wooden tubs with water, and the first froze hard in a night. The second was allowed to fill gradually, drop by drop, throughout a fortnight. The two blocks of ice were then put in the sunshine, and, whereas the ice that had been formed in a single night disappeared within a week, the other block survived for three weeks.

The ice is carefully doctored every night with the skill of a first class surgeon. Small holes are trimmed and scooped out with a knife. They are then filled with finely powdered ice and sprinkled with boiling water. The result is an absolutely even surface of good ice.—London Times.

A Handy Measure.

If you have a pint jug and wish to measure off half a pint with tolerable accuracy it is useless to try and do so by guessing when the jug is half full. A better way is to fill the jug until the contents just reach to the upper end of the bottom of the vessel and just touch the lip at the lower end of the mouth. In this way the space in the pint jug is practically cut into two equal portions, each half representing the space taken by half a pint.

The woman's body was taken to a crematory today. The ashes will be placed in an urn and preserved until the death of her husband, at which time Ernest M. Friedreich, a son-in-law, will carry out the wishes of both, according to the terms of the agreement.

SMALL MATTER OF 300 MILLIONS FROM WASTE WOOD

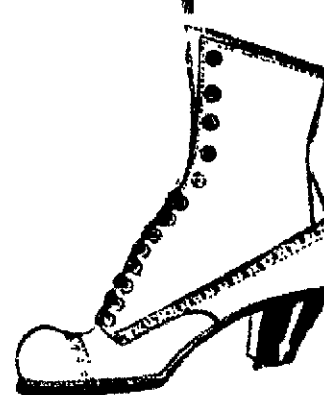

Washington, Feb. 28.—The possibility of more thoroughly utilizing the enormous quantities of waste resinous wood produced in the lumber industry has been disclosed by an investigation just completed by the bureau of chemistry of the agricultural department. The annual waste, it is estimated is not less than $8,000,000. This, according to the investigators can be manufactured into paper products to a value of nearly $300,000,000. The investigation shows that the industry of paper-making, wood distillation and resin oil production can be developed in combination.

HOG RAISING IS PROHIBITED

City Board of Health Decided to Discontinue Issuance of Licenses to Raise Swine.

The city board of health, in regular session last evening, passed a resolution prohibiting the raising of hogs in the city of Lima. No more licenses will be issued by the board of health to hog raisers, and hereafter none but the dressed variety will be allowed within the precincts of the city.

Action was taken by the board upon the recommendation of Health Officer Jones, who declared that it was impossible to keep hogs in a sanitary condition. The conditions of the license also handicapped the authorities in regulating the matter, as it was directly up to them to decide whether or not the conditions in any particular place were sanitary.

By an unanimous vote, the board decided to table the communication sent to it by the city council, setting forth in detail the reasons for not appropriating the necessary funds to provide for the salary and expenses of the city plumbing inspector, which office was created by the board several weeks ago.

The state of the public health was shown to be in an excellent condition in the monthly report of Health Officer Jones, which embodied no important features.

BOND DEPOSITED DURING DYER REGIME

Present City Administration Had Nothing to Do With Disappearance of Lee Robinson's Bond.

An error was made in these columns last evening in reporting the contemplated law suit against the city of Lima to recover a $10 bond deposited with the city by Lee Robinson, a bartender at the Henry Keller saloon on east Market street.

In the article it was stated that Robinson was arrested in October of last year, when in fact, he was arrested and deposited his bond with the city in October, 1911, two months before the present city administration took charge of the city's affairs. The entire proceedings occurred during the administration of former Mayor George Dyer.

ENTOMBED MINERS ARE LIBERATED BY FELLOW WORKMEN

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 28.—Weakened by hunger and benumbed by cold, three miners who were entombed on Wednesday in a colliery near Mahanoy City were rescued early today. Two of them were completely exhausted and had to be dragged through a small aperture which had been made during the last ten feet of digging in the wall which separated the men from liberty.

During the 58 hours the men were imprisoned they were without food or water. Their clothing was soaked with icy water. The waters of a creek broke through the mine wall and caught five men. Two were washed by the rushing water to a place of safety but the others were caught and imprisoned. After many hours of labor the rescuers despairing of saving the men until faint tapping was heard. Then the rescuers worked in relays and reloaded their vigor and finally saved their comrades.

No announcement has come officially from the jockey club, which is the governing body of the racing associations, or from the associations themselves but the reports in sporting circles are said to bear the stamp of such authority.

CHARITY OF CITY CLERK

At Milwaukee Enabled Old Veteran to Join Brother in This City.

LOST HIS MONEY AT LA CROSSE

And Was Penniless When Furnished Ticket and Lunch Fund.

The following from the Milwaukee Daily News of last Wednesday will be read with interest here, as the old veteran mentioned in the article claims to have a brother in Lima, and was on his way to join him here when he lost his savings. No one by the name of Hileman is listed in the city directory, and it is supposed that he is a new comer to the city. The article follows:

"For over an hour an old man with a torn and faded overcoat held together with a leather strap about his middle, a tattered army hat pulled well down over his forehead, shuffled up and down the corridor on the fifth floor at the city hall.

"He carried a roughly hewn stick which served as a cane. Occasionally he would stop a passerby and glance up at him appealingly, but the person accosted would generally quicken his pace and walk away.

"Finally, one of the janitors, who had been watching the old man, asked him what he wanted. He said he desired to obtain a warrant and had been directed to the city hall.

"He was taken to the office of Clerk John Weller.

"Why do you want a warrant?"

Clerk Weller asked.

Robbed in La Crosse, Wis.

"The old man told a pitiful story. He said he was John Hileman, 65 years old, and that he came from McCanna, S. D. Four months ago, he told the clerk, his wife died, leaving him alone in the world.

"They had a little property and some household effects. Hileman said he sold the property and disposed of all his belongings. Then, after paying funeral expenses and other bills, he had $225 left.

"I have a brother in Lima, O," he said, "and he wrote me a letter to come and live with him. Here is the letter and you can read it over."

"Hileman said he stopped in La Crosse, Wis., intending to visit a friend, but learned that the man had moved away. The old man remained over night in La Crosse, he said, stopping at a cheap rooming house.

"When I woke up the next morning," he told Clerk Weller, "my money was all gone. I don't know whether I lost it, or whether some one stole it. I had to get on, so I started to walk. That was last Thursday and I just got here today."

"Hileman complained of intense suffering experienced during his journey afoot to Milwaukee. He met hospitable farmers in some localities, he said, and others were coldly unsympathetic.

Wants to Go to Jail.

"Now I guess I got to go to jail and wait for spring, he said. 'My brother can't send me money, because he can't afford it. I think if I can get a warrant I'll have myself arrested and sent to jail here. Then in April or maybe in May I can start out again and get to Lima before fall.'

"As the old man concluded the story, he broke down and wept. Bowing his head on cold arms across the desk he shook convulsively.

"Hileman told Clerk Weller he was a veteran of the civil war, having served four years. He exhibited his discharge and he unbuckled the strap about his waist and his overcoat fell open, showing his faded army uniform.

"Why don't you make application to the Soldiers' home," Clerk Weller asked.

"Never!" the old fellow exclaimed dramatically. "I've never taken a dollar in pension from my government and I never will. Not as long as I am able to take care of myself."

"Well," John Weller said, looking over the old soldier, "we never sent an old patriot to the workhouse yet, and we are not going to begin now."

Receives Cash and a Ticket.

"Hileman was brought inside the railing, given a seat and told to wait. Half an hour later one of the clerks returned, with a railroad ticket from Milwaukee to Lima.

"And here's a little money to buy food," said Clerk Weller, handing Hileman his ticket and the money. Hileman was speechless with joy and surprise. He tried to express his appreciation and fully a minute elapsed before he could talk.

"I'll pay this back to you," he kept repeating, shaking Mr. Weller's hand, "I'll pay this back. When I get to Lima my brother will find work for me, an old man though I am, I shall not forget."

"Clerk Weller sent one of the clerks to the depot with the old veteran, telling him to be sure to buy a basket well filled with lunch."

MORE OF AN ART TO PERSUADE FOLKS TO SAY "CATCH-UP"

Washington, Feb. 28.—"It is quite an art to make good catch-up," announces the latest official government cook book just issued by experts of the department of agriculture as an addition to series of popular recipe volumes. Incidentally the government experts decided this tomato sauce is spelled "catch-up," not "ketchup" or catsup.

The tomato is given first place among the vegetables by experts, because it can be prepared in a greater number of ways than any other vegetable.

HARMONY IS THE KEYNOTE

Of Banquet to be Given the School Board Members This Evening.

PRESIDENT AND CLERK ARE HOSTS.

Every Guest Has Been Assigned Subject for Toast After Banquet.

Subjects for the toasts to be given at the conclusion of the banquet tendered in honor of the members of the school board and other city officials whose duties bring them into constant contact with the board by President Pence and Clerk Muntis were assigned last evening. Every guest at the banquet and hosts will be called upon for a toast by Rev. G. C. Schaub, pastor of the Spring Street Lutheran church, who has been chosen to act as toastmaster.

Guests at the banquet will include President Pence, Clerk Muntis, Members Genesl. Faust, Rev. J. J. Miller, Dr. A. S. Rudy, Judge A. D. Miller, Superintendent John M. The banquet will be served in the private dining room of the Elks' home at 8 o'clock this evening. Covers will be laid for fifteen, and a tempting repast is being prepared today by Steward Will Nye.

The idea of the banquet originated with President Pence and Clerk Muntis Tuesday evening, and is given with the hope that closer harmony and better feeling will be fostered among the members of the board, whose deliberations during the past year have been marked with factional differences.

The program of toasts follows: Rev. G. C. Schaub—Toastmaster. "Some Difficulties Where There Are Factions"—W. S. Jackson.

"My Observations of School Boards"—F. C. Cunningham. "The Professional Man in Politics"—A. S. Rudy.

"Experiences With Parents and Truants"—D. A. Drake. Superintendent Davidson's subject has not yet been assigned. The toasts are limited to ten minutes.

Mrs. S. S. Van Buren St. Kingston, N. Y. (full name furnished on application) had such decided benefit from using Foley's Honey & Tar Compound that she shares her good fortune with others. She writes: "Foley's Honey & Tar Compound brought my voice back to me during a severe case of bronchitis and laryngitis. Oh, how many people I have recommended it to." Enterprise Drug Store.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

Practically every theatre-goer in Lima remembers Jack Lewis of the Lewis & Oliver players. He is re-appearing at the Orpheum yesterday afternoon for the last half of the week in a comedy sketch entitled: "Where Little Girl Are You?"

is sufficient to enable Mr. Lewis to display the talent which gave him a reputation while here last season in stock, and his co-workers are people well selected for their roles. Margaret Wood is a dainty bit of femininity catalogued in the class of real comedienne and her act is bright and snappy. The four ladies were especially strong favorites in their pyramid building and novelty head balancing. Chance and Latone have a line of rapid-fire fun and some new and delightful songs and Powers & Freed in a musical act open the bill and pave the way for a performance that delighted large audiences, despite the inclement weather of Thursday afternoon and evening.
